CONTENTS

Editors' Preface iii
Foreword vi
Acknowledgements viii
About the Editors ix
Author Biographies x
Chapter Tour xv
Key Concepts in African Languages xix
List of frameworks and models xxv

SECTION I: THEORETICAL FOUNDATIONS OF AFRICAN AND BLACK MENTAL HEALTH

Chapter 1 Mental health: African understandings 1
Chapter 2 Tools for mental health assessment and diagnosis in Africa 26
Chapter 3 African versus Western mental health care models: A comparative analysis 45

SECTION II: FAMILY AND COMMUNITY ISSUES

Chapter 4 Mental health issues among children and social work measures in Nigeria 77
Chapter 5 The barriers to accessing mental health support services among individuals who have been incarcerated in Africa 107
Chapter 6 Indigenous knowledge systems for mental health care and support: The case for the Hurukuro Dialogues Initiative 133
Chapter 7 Cultural resilience and mental health: Exploring support systems for Sotho widows in Zimbabwe 161
Chapter 8 Bridging existing knowledge, practices and innovation: The Friendship Bench model as a community-based mental health intervention in Africa 182

SECTION III: SOCIETAL ISSUES

Chapter 9 The intersection of African indigenous medicine, mental health and entrepreneurship: Addressing fear of failure among aspiring entrepreneurs in eSwatini 212

Chapter 10 Masculinity and mental health: The experiences of Ndebele men in Zimbabwe 236

Chapter 11 Schools as frontline mental health and psychosocial support systems in Lesotho: A multi-layered approach 257

SECTION IV: ENVIRONMENTAL AND SPIRITUAL ISSUES

Chapter 12 Culturally grounded pathways for supporting mental wellbeing of elderly women in rural Africa in the context of climate change: Insights from Zimbabwe 289

Chapter 13 The role of clergy and social work in promoting mental health among African Australians 315

Chapter 14 Pedagogical approaches emanating from Black understandings of mental health 337

Annotated Bibliography of Major Sources 365

List of Mental Health Conditions and Issues 383

Index 395